AMERICAN PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION

For science. For action. For health.

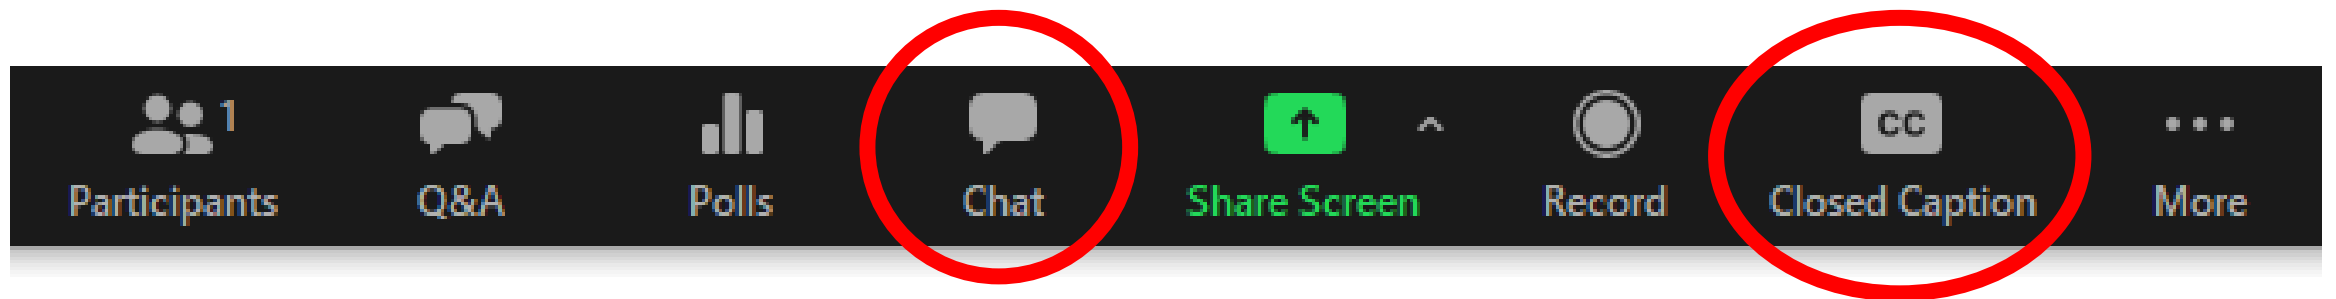

Dedication to Chris Kochtitzky

- Chris lived and breathed urban planning, public health, social justice and inclusion—it was his life.
- He was a generous, caring friend and a tenacious public health professional pursuing his life and work with vigor, charm, wisdom, and intelligence.
- Chris Kochtitzky Memorial Fund

Inclusive Interdisciplinary Walk/Move Audit fundamentals (I2Audits)

1. Determine goals: outreach, education, inspiration, practical planning, policy?
2. Qualitative (experience, how “inviting”) vs. quantitative (objective, checklists)
3. Target audience(s).
4. Select a route; pre-scout.
5. Seek teachable moments.
6. Plan to capture feedback.
7. Shared discovery & solutions!

4 elements encourage active transportation . . .

Land Use

Network

Safety & Access

Site Design

Consider all three scales:

Macro scale: Varied destinations nearby?

Meso scale: A quality connected network of facilities.

Micro scale: Accessible, functional, & inviting, details of design.

Logistics . . .

- Target 1.0-1.5 miles, for a one hour walk; adjust for conditions, abilities, goals.
- Invitation list: Who can make a difference?
- Typical two-hour agenda:
 - Intros & discussion (15-30 mins.)
 - Facilitated walk audit (60 mins.)
 - Discuss solutions (30-45 mins.)

Possible audit invitees?

1. Public health officials, educators, advocates.
2. Planners, planning commissioners.
3. Transportation staff, public works, engineers.
4. Elected councilors & commissioners.
5. School administrators, teachers, parents.
6. Housing authority & public transit agency.
7. Park & recreation, trail, open space advocates.
8. Large employers; health insurance.
9. Chamber of commerce; economic development.
10. Private developers, realtor, lender.
11. Community groups, social service orgs.
12. Independent living groups, places of worship.

Invitation tip: Don't ask how they can help you. Ask how you can help them meet common goals.

Insights from our audit.

- Observing how space is being used (or not) by others is as important as how you use the space.
- Thomas Paine plaza – only one accessible route, and other embedded challenges.
- Who scouts & facilitates matters a lot.
- Shared discovery & solutions!
